WHO WE ARE

A profitable GTM engine, already at scale.

Built by operators who ran growth inside the best tech companies in the world. Five years in market, we are a GTM Operating System delivered as a service — senior operators and proprietary AI workflows in one system.

WHY NOW

Every CMO got the same impossible math.

Do 10× more — with a smaller team.

1. The average marketing team is 40% smaller than in 2025.
2. Budget moved from headcount to tooling — and has not moved back.
3. Every board deck now has an AI-efficiency slide.

The old models both break.

- Traditional agencies

  Labor arbitrage. No leverage, no defensibility, margin capped by headcount.

- Pure SaaS tools

  Great margins, but they own no outcome — adoption stalls, value is unproven.

- The winner

  Owns the outcome and the software doing the work. That is what we are building.

THE THESIS

Services-market scale. Software-margin economics.

AI-led services capture a market the size of services, at margins that trend toward software — run as one company, two motions, off one customer base.

THE MODEL

One company, two motions.

SERVICES MOTION

Triple Dot

$4K – $30K / mo · flat retainer

- Senior operators own your plan and results
- Paid Media · SEO/GEO · Content · RevOps · Creative
- High-touch, high-ACV, ~15-month tenure

PRODUCT MOTION

Slate

$499 – $2,999 / mo · credit-based

- Autonomous marketing coworker + control plane
- Self-serve landing, low CAC, annual contracts
- Scales without linear headcount

LAND-AND-EXPAND: Product lands customers cheaply → services expand the account. Today ~90% services / ~10% product — and we are flipping it.

THE SERVICES ENGINE

Four business units. Full-funnel GTM.

Paid Media

~40% of revenue · ~70% GM

Search, social, ABM, review platforms. Google Premium Partner (top 3%).

SEO / GEO & Content

~45% of revenue · ~60% GM

2,000+ articles a year. GenAI + human editorial — the key margin driver.

Revenue & Marketing Ops

~10% of revenue

CRM, attribution, WebOps. Platinum HubSpot partner. Fastest-growing line.

Creative Services

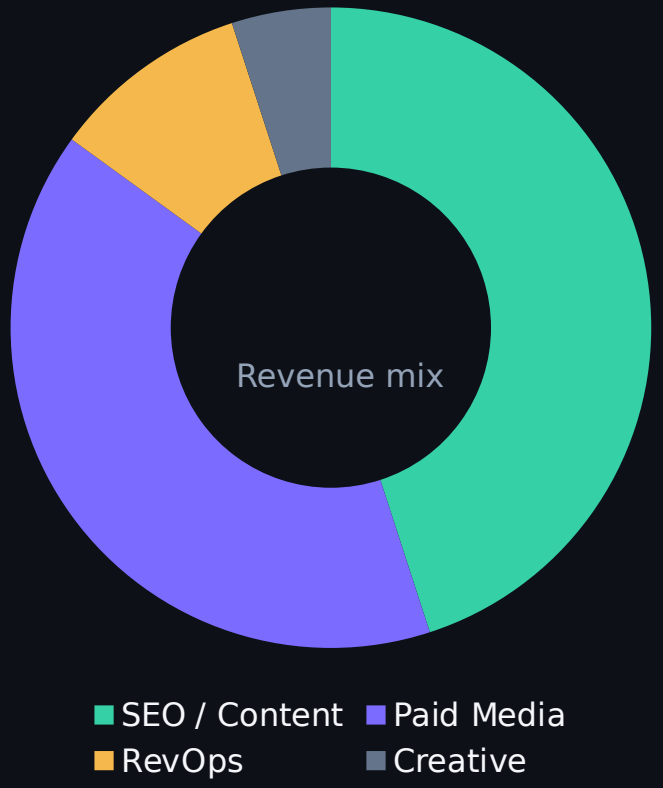

~5% of revenue

Landing pages, ad creative, brand systems — coupled to paid media.

POD DELIVERY MODEL: Cross-functional squads own accounts end-to-end. No account-manager layer. 85–90% utilization, no bench.

TRACTION

Revenue that compounds — and stays.

~94%
Monthly net revenue retention

15+ mo
Average client tenure

$400K
ARR from expansion in one quarter

50%
Revenue from the US

An autonomous marketing coworker.

"Grow organic signups 40% this quarter." That is the entire input. Then, without being asked again, Slate runs the loop:

1

Watches

Rankings, pages, competitors, AI citations — around the clock.

→

2

Plans

Turns the goal and signals into concrete tasks.

→

3

Executes

Does its own work; assigns the rest to named people.

→

4

Learns

Feeds every outcome back into memory for the next cycle.

ONE CONTROL PLANE, ANY AGENT ON TOP. Context · intelligence · governance · execution — wired into where marketing lives. The only tool you can give a goal and walk away from.

PRODUCT TRACTION

Early, annual, and accelerating.

$30K	$45K+	25+	20+
MRR today	Booked, all annual	Paying customers	POCs converting now

Every contract annual — no monthly churn to fight. Depth over logos: accounts using it daily.

THE ROADMAP

OPERATING TODAY

AI-search visibility & off-site presence — where the models cite you.

→

NEXT

Paid marketing — same watchers, same memory, pointed at ad accounts.

→

THEN

The rest of marketing in sequence: lifecycle, CRO, product marketing.

Each area reuses the memory, integrations and governance the last one earned — so each is cheaper than the one before.

WHY TOGETHER COMPOUNDS

The services engine makes the product win.

1

Distribution

Services give Slate a warm channel of 250+ customers — low CAC, no cold SaaS sale.

2

Data

Delivery across 500+ campaigns writes Slate's roadmap and its day-one defaults.

3

Margin & stickiness

Slate lifts services margin and retention — clients check it weekly, creating new service triggers.

Apart, a strong agency and an early tool. Together, a compounding machine: one funds and teaches the other.

MARKET

A $1.5B market — entered through a trigger.

TAM

$1.5B

~20,000–25,000 qualified SaaS & D2C companies

SAM

$100M–$280M

~7,000 near-term prospects hitting a growth trigger

ENTRY WEDGE

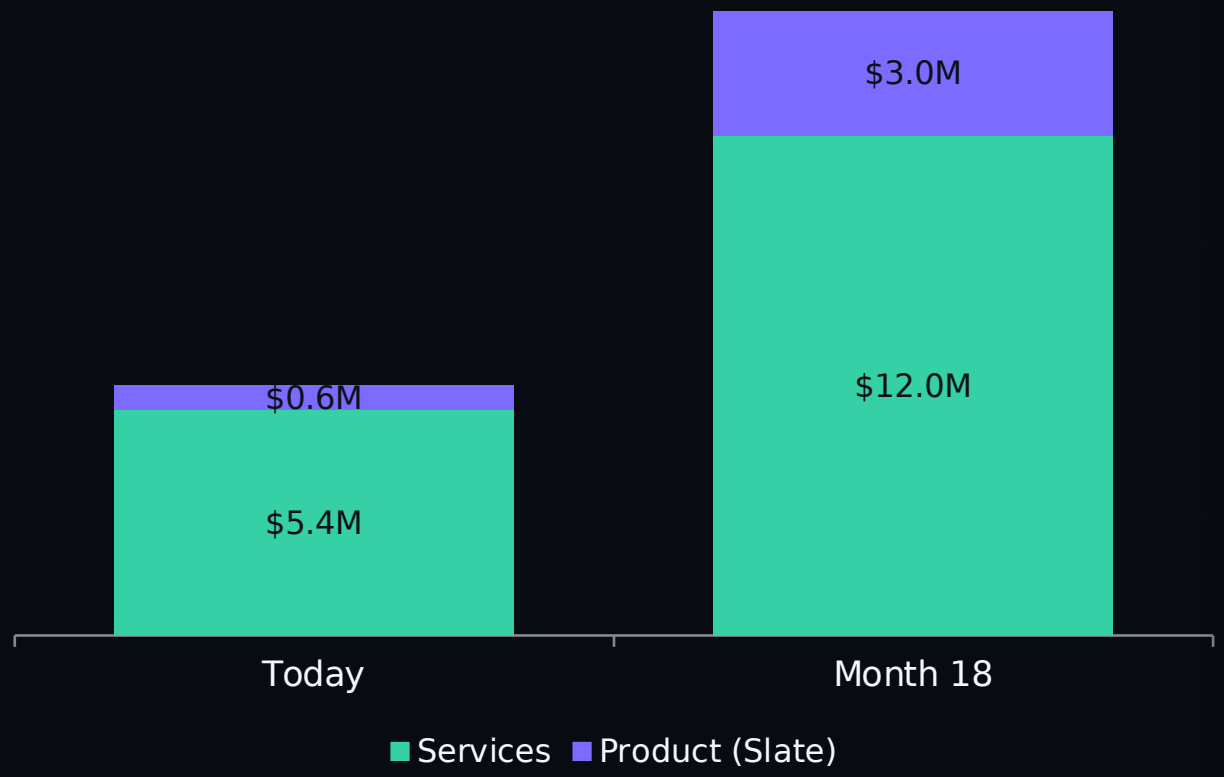

Slate

A free visibility report surfaces the problem → routes to services

IDEAL CUSTOMER: B2B SaaS & high-growth D2C · $5M–$200M ARR · 50–500 employees · NA / UK / AU / APAC · $15K–$60K combined annual spend.

THE PLAN

From $6M to $15M in 18 months.

Mix flips

~90/10 services-product today → product to ~20% of a much larger top line.

Margin expands

EBITDA ~40% today → 50%+ as product mix and agentic delivery compound.

Partner-accelerated

Standalone plan reaches ~$10M; the right partner and capital get us to $15M.

MARGIN ENGINE

Agentic delivery is the margin unlock.

TODAY

Human-led & tool-fragmented

- Campaign ops, reporting, onboarding are execution-heavy
- Scaling means adding headcount
- AI used in silos, not integrated 2026–2027

Agentic scale & margin leverage

- AI agents as employees, mapped in the org chart
- Headcount grows sub-linear to revenue
- Humans move up to strategy, judgment, cross-sell

50–60%
Target blended gross margin

15–18%

WHY A PARTNER, WHY NOW. Five years bootstrapped, <10% attrition, profitable. We want a strategic partner with US capital, network and credibility to accelerate Slate — and to let founders take some chips off the table after five years. Modest secondary, real primary, aligned upside.

THE ASK

A strategic partner for the next chapter.

$50–60M	12.5–15×	$25–30M
Total enterprise value	EBIT multiple on Triple Dot (~$28–33M)	Valuation for Slate

- Structure 30–40% secondary + primary. Founder liquidity after five years, with the team fully committed to the plan.
- Use of primary Accelerate Slate's product & GTM, and US market expansion — the path from ~$10M standalone to $15M.
- What the partner brings Capital, a US growth network, and the credibility to win upmarket, faster.

Let's build the AI-led GTM company together.
